Summary 2017:

We started implementation of project as soon as school started. Screening for new receivers and following up for broken wheelchairs and tricycles started as soon as we heard about funding for 2017.

With this year financial and technical support from Collaborative Music Workshop (CMW) we were able to distribute and repair affirmation number of wheelchairs and tricycles for this FY. The direct beneficiaries (receivers/user) and indirect beneficiaries (family member and teachers) are very happy, appreciative for all in touch and asked for extension and expansion of the project.

Supplementary Comments:

1. Due to fall of Afghan currency rate and ability to find a vendor to provide wheelchair with cheaper price to us we were able to increase the number of new wheelchair for distribution as you can see the details above.
2. We the MESAA staff has been trying hard to make the best use of our limited financial assistance we have been receiving in recent years, even with minimum payments.
3. Continuation of this project added one more year experience to MESAA background and keep MESAA going to help disadvantage people. We have experienced that a user has been using a tricycle for about 14 years because of facilitating repairing service.
4. The project is always well received by all direct and indirect beneficiaries.

5. MESAA staff are grateful to MCJ and MCW as well as all individual for providing us with a chance to be in the service of our needy people through your kind cooperation and support.

Remark: Increasing of displaced Afghan is still continuing due to the instability mostly in north o country. This year we experience less refugees return to country. The situation is still critical and there is need for humanitarian aid in various aspects and our project is one of a highly expected one. Therefore we would like to ask for your further support in this regard.

He requested replacement of his tricycle, was active for more than 12 years, with wheelchair which took place. His tricycle distributed to another beneficiaries.
